

An incredibly talented wallpaper and set designer and wallpaper historian, Tony Roche developed his passion from a young age.

Starting out as a scene painter for the BBC, he has developed a career in film and interiors, having completed prestigious projects for productions including Anna Karenina, Lara Croft Tomb Raider and X-Men: First Class and has recently judged the Annual Student Wallpaper Design Competition alongside Zandra Rhodes.

This original and fascinating exhibition will feature a variety of Tony Roche's work and designs. You will never look at wallpaper in the same way again.
